5C – Policy 3630 Student Fundraising Activities

Aside from the minor revisions highlighted in the policy, no additional changes have been made to the policy since its last reading by the Board. At that time, the Board elected to table the policy in order to seek clarification from our insurance provider regarding potential liability coverage related to fundraising activities.

Specifically, the Board requested that Heidi consult with the insurance provider to determine whether an addendum was necessary to address situations in which a student not enrolled at RISE participates in a fundraiser and sustains an injury.

According to the response received, the school’s insurance policy does provide liability coverage for school-sponsored events. While it does not automatically extend medical coverage to students or non-students injured during such events, the policy does offer defense and indemnity coverage in instances where RISE is found to have been negligent. Non-students participating in these events would be considered volunteers under the policy and would be covered accordingly.

Based on this information, no addendum was added to the policy.
